I Will Sing of Mercy and of Justice

– Psalm 101:1

Music offers us the rare opportunity to be simultaneously in communion with ourselves, our neighbors, and with God. Whether we are singing or listening, engagement in sacred music allows us to realize our beliefs in the world, and to engage in a community forged in music and the spirit. At St. David's, we believe that our music-making is both an expression of God as immanent love, as well as a proper "sacrifice of praise," following Søren Kierkegaard's metaphor that, in the theatre of worship, the liturgical leaders are the prompters, the congregants are the actors, and our audience is God.

Recognizing that God is present both in our interactions with each other and as a recipient of praise, we strive to offer joyful noise to the best of our abilities. For over a century, St. David's has maintained excellence in the choral tradition that is at the heart of Anglican music. The Choir of St. David's provides the backbone of this musical leadership, singing at Sunday services from September through Trinity Sunday. We also provide opportunities for children, youth, and adults of all ages to participate musically in worship.

We invite you to take a moment to explore the musical offerings presented by St. David's, both in this music booklet and online at our website, www.stdavidsrolandpark.com, and on Facebook at @stdavidsmusic. Each Sunday during the program year (September-May), learn about the music presented in worship in Sundays in Song, or learn about the Instruments of the Parish used in worship and the Ensembles of the Parish which offer music throughout the year. Read about the St. David's Music Series, which offers a wide range of special events, including a First Friday Concert series, a Recital and Evensong series, and the Baltimore Bach Marathon, a Baltimore tradition for 43 years. This year we will present Centenary Commemorations for Leonard Bernstein, the 1918 Armistice, and the founding of the Lessons and Carols tradition.

You can also learn about the many programs through which St. David's engages with the community, including the Composer-in-Residence and Ensemble-in-Residence programs, which supports emerging and established artists and shares their work with the Baltimore community. Find out about the many forms of Outreach and Education with which the musicians of the parish are involved, including performances at retirement communities, education initiatives for high school students at schools without music programs, and the newly-formed street choir Voices Rise: A Baltimore Choir of Hope, a partnership between St. David's, Paul's Place, Inc., and the Peabody Conservatory.

If you're excited about these offerings, then know that we're excited to involve you! If you'd like to make music in worship, you can volunteer to sing, ring, play, or participate in a number of ways. You can also find out how you can Support the music program to ensure that St. David's continues to bring music to all of God's children – no exceptions. Should you have any questions, or are interested in becoming involved, please do not hesitate to contact our Director of Music Ministries, Dr. Douglas Buchanan, at dbuchanan@st.davidsrolandpark.com.
